

Hort May 2006

Introducing The Grower's Companion Plus: The Best of Both Worlds!

Two years ago, Growth Products introduced its very first granular products, Companion® Dry Biological Fungicide (for the professional grower) and The Landscaper's Companion. We formulated these dry products specifically for growers who prefer blending soil mixes with bio controls prior to planting. Not only does this save time and labor, but plants are protected from the very moment they are transplanted.

Then we took this one step further! Why not have both the disease control and all the benefits of a biostimulant in ONE PRODUCT?

Call it a 'double insurance policy'! Your seedling or young plant has the best of both worlds in one product. We call it Grower's Companion Plus.

Combining different raw materials with desirable attributes into new formulations can be a tedious process. We've had lots of practice with product development here at Growth Products in the last 22 years. In fact, the majority of our products have been developed based on feedback and suggestions from our customers.

This willingness to experiment has led us to develop some of our very best products!

Because The Grower's Companion Plus includes the same active ingredient as our popular EPA-registered Companion® Biological Fungicide, you can be assured of the same disease-fighting power against a broad variety of root rot diseases. This active ingredient, Bacillus subtilis GB03, is a naturally-occurring soil bacterium which produces a broad spectrum antibiotic. It works much the same as penicillin works in our bodies; it kills off the infection by disrupting the pathogen's ability to produce a perfect cell wall. The results? Death and destruction of the pathogen!

Here's where it gets even better!

We then take this proven disease prevention and combine it with the known biostimulant benefits from one of our most popular products. Well tested materials such as Humic Acid, L-amino acids, Kelp, and natural rooting hormones combine for a powerful, growth-enhancing punch. All of these raw materials have been used in our popular Essential® Plus Liquid Biostimulant product for many years.

So here you have it: By popular demand and growers' suggestions is a product which combines the BEST of the BEST from Growth Products, Ltd. in a dry formulation for soil incorporation.

What can the Grower's Companion Plus do for you?

- Faster rooting & more abundant seed germination.
- Saves time and labor of mixing, measuring, and drenching or spraying.
- Helps counteract transplant shock and root dieback.
- Increases CEC of soils and replenishes organic matter.
- Speeds up production time. Remember: Better Roots= Faster Growth!

The rate is just ½ pound per cubic yard of soil. Other biological products start at 1 pound per cubic yard and range up to 5 pounds. Compare ingredients and CFU's! This product is head and shoulders above the rest.

Please visit our website: www.GrowthProducts.com or call Customer Service at (800) 648-7626.

Written By: Clare Reinbergen,
President
Cell Phone: (914) 497-3315